TWELFTH YEAR

YOUNG MAN FALLS IN A THRESHER

Dr. W. I. McNeill Has Joined the Local Dental Fraternity With Offices Over Cardon Jewelry Store

Dr. W. I. McNeill, dentist, has now opened nicely furnished offices over the Cardon Jewelry store and is equipped to enter the practice of his profession as well as any young dentist could be expected to be. Dr. McNeill completed his dental work at the Chicago dental college this spring and since he is so well known here, he felt that Logan was the place for him to begin practice. Among the younger fellows in this community, there is no one more favorably known. Dr. McNeill while a student at the U. A. C. for three years was always associated with the college activities. He played baseball, basketball, football and was found on the track team. Since leaving school he has served a three years mission, as well as completing his dental studies. In the future, his dental offices will be open to friends whom he will be more than pleased to welcome as well as appreciate a share of their dental patronage.

TEMPLE IS RENOVATED

Richmond Camp Fire Girls Do the Work. Five Automobile Loads Come To Temple City

The Logan temple received its annual cleaning on Thursday, the work being done by the Richmond Camp Fire Girls. Five automobiles loaded with pretty girls from the "lively town on the north" came down and scrubbed, washed and dusted the various rooms of the building, a job that is done as the occasion requires by the various wards in this valley. Those who drove the girls to Logan were George G. Hendricks, William Harris, A. A. Thomas, Peter Swenson, and Morgan Knapp.

Reuben Hurst of Idaho Falls Meets With Serious Accident at Richmond

Reuben Hurst, 25 years of age, formerly of Idaho Falls, now of Richmond, was frightfully hurt on Thursday when he fell into the cylinder of the Merrill Brothers threshing machine while at work west of town about three miles. The young man was brought to Logan where he could receive proper treatment. He fell into the machine feet first and one leg was badly lacerated and the flesh shredded on the calf of the leg. Part of the bone was torn from the ankle and much of the heel was also torn off. The best that can be expected will be a stiff ankle after the wounds heal.

Mr. Hurst was engineer for the threshing company and was on top of the machine when the accident happened. As soon as he was removed from the machine his wounds were scientifically dressed by Frank Blair and the patient hurried to the office of Dr. Adamson who in turn dressed the injuries and brought young Hurst to Logan as he has no relatives in Richmond where he could be taken for care. He is now at the Budge hospital. Besides Dr. Adamson, President Alma Merrill of the Benson stake, accompanied the unfortunate man to Logan and saw that proper arrangements were made for his care and keep.

Gus Hunt has returned to Richmond from his Bear Lake trip where he went for recuperation after the accident of burying his sister. He will return in the near future to Santa Meda, California, where he is making his home at present.

Kermit Roosevelt and His Bride, Snapped on Reaching America.

This is a snapshot of Kermit Roosevelt and his bride as they appeared when they landed in New York from abroad. They spent a part of their honeymoon in Europe after their marriage at Madrid, to which country the bride's father, Joseph E. Willard, is ambassador. Colonel Roosevelt's son and his bride will spend the rest of their honeymoon in this country, sailing on July 29 for South America, where Kermit has a contract to build a public market in Curitiba, Brazil.

GOOD CROPS HARVESTED IN CURLEW VALLEY

A. G. Lundstrom Back From Big Farm Says Crops Are Yielding Better Than Was Estimated

The Curlew Valley farmers are elated over the way their harvests are turning out. A. G. Lundstrom, Logan's big furniture dealer, has just returned from his big farm out there and says the crops are yielding even more than was expected. Mr. Lundstrom had 400 acres planted to wheat this year and reports that the crop was good and perfectly even over the whole farm. The crops in Curlew Valley were not injured at all by the big frost that did so much damage in Pocatello valley and southern Idaho. This is a great encouragement to the men who own land in that section—another encouraging feature is the fact that the crops this year have not been damaged by rabbits. In former years these pests have been a source of considerable loss to the farmers, but they seem to have been practically all killed off now, so that they will not cause any worry in the future.

Mr. Lundstrom reports that practically all of his grain is now harvested and judging from the number of stacks and the fact that the straw was shorter than usual, he expects to make a fine showing at threshing time.

With the present excellent prospects for high prices this fall the farmers are justified in being pretty good about their crop. It is said that large contracts are already being made for future delivery for a cash consideration of 67 cents per bushel. When buyers offer such prices at this season it shows that they feel pretty sure of high prices later on.

SCHOOL POPULATION SHOWS AN INCREASE

The census takers appointed to determine the present school population of Logan have completed their work and the figures are now available. The returns show a total gain of 156 school children over the enrollment of last year. This ought to be enough to call for four extra teachers for the coming year. The following lists show the comparative numbers for this year and last:

	1914	1913
First District	614	606
Second District	592	556
Third District	415	423
Fourth District	476	443
Fifth District	884	787
Totals	2981	2825

LIBRARY COMMITTEE CHOSEN

$1200 to be Spent in Securing Books For Richmond Reading Room

The Richmond Library committee met a few nights ago and selected J. L. McCarty, George Thompson and Dr. H. A. Adamson as a special committee for selecting books for the reading room. This committee will have about $1200 to spend in equipping their slopes with good reading matter, a sum which should go a long way toward securing interesting reading material and reference works for both young and old. This announcement should be a sufficient tip to live book agents to get busy and make the acquaintance of each of the committees as $1200 would hardly stretch out a long way toward buying out a vacation trip.

A THRILLING ATTRACTION FOR COUNTY FAIR

Lady Will Make Double Parachute Drop From Largest Exhibition Balloon in the World

Miss Lucille Belmont, balloonist from Chicago has been engaged by the Cache County Fair Association to give a balloon ascension with a double parachute drop each day of the fair, September 28, 29 and 30. This is a new feature and one that has never been seen in Cache Valley before.

The balloon is very much larger than the one used heretofore by Professor Abbott. This is necessary so that the balloon will go high enough for Miss Belmont to make the double parachute drop before she alights.

Mr. C. C. Baldwin, manager of the Belmont Sisters Balloon Company, has the following to say:

"Mr. Secretary: Just a word in justice to you and myself. I wish to explain the act in which Lucille Belmont will appear. This feature act is Lucille Belmont (youngest of the famous Belmont Sisters) ascending with the largest balloon ever constructed for exhibition purposes.

When at a great height the lady cuts loose with a parachute and when she opens, and while slowly descending, she cuts loose from it with a second parachute, making two grand parachute drops from one balloon each ascension. Positively the only lady making two parachute drops from one balloon each ascension.

This act is considered to be one of the most dangerous of aerial navigation. But few men attempt this feat, and up to the present time Lucille Belmont of Chicago, is the only lady who has successfully tried this spectacular feature.

An aeroplane flight will pull for the people the first time; yet for some people for the second time, but the third time it loses its allurements, and has no pulling or pleasing power with the people. A balloon ascension by a man like a clown at a circus or horse race at a fair always draws, as before stated. So, while a balloon ascension by a man draws, a balloon ascension by a lady draws much better, but by a lady like Lucille Belmont with a featuring connection will draw and please the people better than any other act costing you three times the money.

A great many secretaries might erroneously think our balloon ascension is the same as any other. Not so, however; no more than you could get the people with a bunch of horse races for farmers at a five minute clip than you could with race horses at a closely contested race at the time of 2:20 or less.

We are not the cheapest but the best, with an act abreast of the times at a salary that is reasonable. You can get plenty of balloon people but only one lady making the double parachute drop from one balloon.

The lady has to use an especially constructed balloon (the largest) in order to make a very high ascension. The first parachute drop is made the same as the usual balloon stunt; then when the crowd has settled down to watch the aeronaut sail down they are startled by the lady making a second terrific drop with a second parachute, and when it opens, sails gracefully to the ground.

The public demands and you want a thriller. This is; not the cheapest but the best, and the cheapest to you is the people's favorite aeronaut at a price you can pay. Remember no other lady in the world can guarantee you this act as I am the only one. Beware of imitations! The one reliable lady aeronaut making a spectacular balloon ascension with the largest balloon used for exhibition purposes and making two separate and distinct drops from one balloon!

A thriller, a new feature for you to consider and for your approval.

H. J. Webb Gets Important Position

H. J. Webb who has been a resident of various parts of Logan for practically the past eight years leaves his home in the Fourth ward today with his wife and family to take up the duties of farm demonstrator in Salt Lake county. This position, which has been recently created by federal law, is considered one of the most responsible positions on the Extension Division of the Agricultural College, as he will have direct supervision of the agricultural industries of the most intensely settled district in the state. His appointment to such important position is the highest compliment that the authorities of the college could pay him for the persevering work which he has done at that institution since registering there as a student in 1907.

Mr. Webb's many Logan friends will certainly feel an unanimity in declaring that he deserves the reward which has come to him as a result of the years of self sacrificing study which he carried on under great difficulties during the years preceding his graduation in 1912. Coming to the college in 1907, after having just completed a three years mission in a foreign country, he was without the means that most young fellows think absolutely necessary to begin such a course. Two questions of means, however, it is known do not hinder the men who have an end to accomplish. He had an end—he felt the need of an education and determined to satisfy it.

It is encouraging to the many who find themselves hampered for means at a time when they most need them to know how this man went ahead in spite of a discouraging outlook. He knows what it is to "batch" it. He knows what it is to spend hours after school doing chores for 15c an hour; he knows what it means to sweep the college floors while about him the hollow laugh of the more fortunate echoes derision for his humble toil.

In spite of all these difficulties, he has won. In fact his class mates saw that he had won before he received his degree. During his senior year, he reached a most enviable position in rank of scholarship, being awarded a medal for excellence in this line of work.

After graduation he received an appointment on the faculty of the college spending his summers in the field study department of entomology. In this work he was eminently successful, especially in the study of the alfalfa weevil. This post is now well under control, and Mr. Webb's work in studying its life history is largely responsible for the good results. As a teacher, he has been equally successful and in his new line everything points toward great results both for himself and for the men on the farms he will assist in ushering in the latter day methods of agriculture.

Word comes from Salt Lake that Mrs. Mary L. Hendrickson is on the improve. She recently underwent an operation at the L. D. S. hospital and her many friends will undoubtedly be more than pleased to learn that the operation was successful and that Mrs. Hendrickson is on the road to recovery.

William M. Mank, sales manager of the Utah State Building and Loan Association, is in the valley and is working with the local representative of the National B. L. for a few days.

CACHE COUNTY FARMERS ARE BUMPED AGAIN

Assessment of Cache County Farm Lands Raised Twenty-five Per Cent

The State Board of Equalization evidently thinks Cache county farmers are getting too prosperous. Perhaps our boosters have been boosting too much or our farmers have been seen too often in forty horse power automobiles. At any rate we have been bumped. A twenty-five per cent raise on the assessment of all farm lands in the county means that the Cache farmers will have to dig up extra taxes to a sum running well up in the five figures. The farmers may be prosperous, but they can't be blamed for kicking a little in a case of this kind. The following is a copy of the letter notifying the county clerk of the increase:

Salt Lake City, July 29, 1914
A. B. Chambers,
County Auditor,
Logan, Cache County, Utah.

Dear Sir:
At a meeting of the State Board of Equalization held July 27, 1914, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved that the assessment and valuation placed upon property in Cache county as specified below, and as the same appears on the assessment books of Cache county, be and the same is hereby raised as follows:

Farm lands twenty-five per cent.

And you are hereby ordered to make such entries and changes in the assessment books of your county as will make same conform to the terms and purposes of this notice and order. Yours truly,

THE STATE BOARD OF

EQUALIZATION,

By Harden Bennion, Secy.

The county clerk is also in receipt of information that the state tax has been fixed as follows:

An ad valorem tax for state purposes of 4 1-2 mills.

An ad valorem tax for high schools of 1 1-2 mill.

An ad valorem tax for district schools of 3 mills.

This makes a total state tax of 8 mills.

GOVERNOR SPRY HERE NEXT WEEK

Will be Found in Logan Canyon on His Annual Vacation if Present Plans Mature

Governor William Spry is planning to be in Logan canyon all next week. He will be found at the Herman Harms camp where he usually spends his annual vacation. The Governor is planning to be here Monday night, accompanied by Mr. Harms. The latter gentlemen with his family, and Mr. Hardy and family, have their tents pitched and have spent several days on the canyon stream already. It will be remembered that during the Governor's outing last season, the Logan Military band and many citizens went to his camp and spent a most pleasant evening which was greatly appreciated by the Salt Lake visitors. It was also a most pleasant outing for those who participated as Governor Spry gave a very fine talk as did also many of the local citizens.

Marriage Licenses

The county clerk reports the following:
Moses Christofferson of Richmond and Marie Karen of Lewiston.
